FIRST LET'S MAKE THINGS THAT LAST.

The Emeco 1006 Navy Chair was first commissioned in the 1940s by the U.S. Navy for use on warships – the contract even specified that it had to be able to withstand torpedo blasts. Today our chairs are still made in the U.S.A., of 80% recycled aluminum, and are made by hand, by Emeco craftsmen using the original 77 step process. The world's best architects and designers collaborate with us to design chairs that are built and guaranteed to last a lifetime.

As we apply what we've practiced in the past, we are looking toward the future. We are on a mission to make a positive impact on the environment. Our goals are to use waste material in our products, use as little energy as possible in our manufacturing, generate a minimum of waste in the process, and build strong, durable, beautiful chairs that last through generations. We've been on the same mission since 1944 and we will continue to search for new ways to recover and utilize discarded materials and make products that last.

FIRST PRINCIPLES. LASTING VALUES.

At Emeco, we are committed to the principles on which our company and culture were built – quality, excellence, trust, honesty and lasting value. Our first product, the Navy Chair, was made to last a hundred and fifty years. It was light, smart, functional and strong – because that was the best we could do. Much of what is manufactured today is destined for the trash heap. Not so with Emeco -- our products are handcrafted to last, and the principles that built our first chair still guide us today.

Wilton Dinges, who founded Emeco in 1944, compared the 1006 Navy Chair to a Rodin sculpture – a handcrafted piece of art. The chairs were first built for the US Navy in World War II. It takes 77 individual steps to make the 1006 Navy Chair. It is guaranteed for life.

NEW MATERIAL FROM EMECO.

We get the most out of the material we use. For years, that material was aluminum. We developed a way to work with it to make products of extraordinary strength, durability and beauty. It took us a long time to find a new material that could inspire us the way that aluminum does, and even more time to develop the new material we now use for the 111 Navy Chair. It's strong, durable, and it has a deep beauty that people love when they touch it. And it's made from recycled plastic bottles. In fact, we called it the 111 Navy Chair because every chair we make keeps 111 plastic bottles out of the landfill.

111 NAVY CHAIR by COCA COLA

Coca-Cola and Emeco collaborated to solve an environmental problem by upcycling consumer waste into a sustainable, timeless, classic chair. Made of 111 recycled PET plastic bottles, the 111 Navy Chair is a story of innovation.

HERITAGE AGAINST RECYCLING.

HERITAGE by STARCK

Philippe Starck coined the saying "Heritage Against Recycling" and said this was "When you make something so well that it never has to be recycled." Starck designed the Heritage collection to last forever and be handed down for generations.

1104 LIBRARY CHAIR by EMECO

In 1949 the US Government needed a high quality library chair. Emeco's 1104 Library Chair with a wood seat bottom was created for this application. The wooden seat is made by Amish woodworkers in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, U.S.A.

NAVAL OFFICER CHAIR

In 1946 Navy officers began requesting Emeco chairs for their offices. The Navy developed specifications and in 1948 the Emeco Naval Officer Collection was launched.
